

19-24
OCT2017
TECHNOPOLIS
CITY OF ATHENS

FRIDAY 20th OCT. 2017 | 9:30 - 14:00

Health technology assessment for eHealth & integrated care projects: Hands-on experience from the use of MAST framework

Chairs: Panos Stafylas (HealThink LP) & Marco d'Angelantonio (HIM SL)
Members of the Board of Directors MAST EEIG

Kristian Kidholm

Associate Professor, Head of Research - Center for Innovative Medical Technologies, Odense University, Denmark
Objective and validity of MAST

Marco d'Angelantonio

CEO of HIM SL, Spain, HIM SA, Belgium, & HIS GmbH, Germany, Member of the Board of Directors of MAST EEIG, Belgium
Health & social situation and unmet needs

Panagiotis Bamidis

Associate Professor, Medical Education Informatics, Medical School, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece
Assessment of technical characteristics

Elena Stafyla

Legal and Bioethics Consultant, HealThink, Greece
Ethical, legal and social aspects

George Dafoulas

MD, MBA, Research Fellow, Medical School, University of Athens, Greece
Safety and clinical outcomes

Ane Fullaondo Zabala

MSc, PhD, Research Project Coordinator, Kronikgune, Spain
Patients' perspectives

Panos Stafylas

MD, MSc, PhD, HTA & eHealth Consultant, CEO of HealThink, Greece, Member of the Board of Directors of MAST EEIG, Belgium
Economic outcomes, sustainability and scalability of eHealth services

Haralampos Karanikas

Lecturer at the Department of Computer Science, Technological Educational Institute of Sterea Ellada and Senior Researcher at University of Athens, Secretary General EEMEPY, Greece
The eHealth landscape in Greece: Opportunities for HTA

Dimitrios Kouvelas

Professor of Clinical Pharmacology, Director of the Laboratory of Pharmacology & Clinical Pharmacology, School of Medicine, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece
New assessment pathways for medicines and devices

dhealth.gr

